Mark Lane Aligns Self With Garrison

ORLEANS (UPI) — Lane, outspoken critic of Warren Commission and author of the best-seller "Rush to Judgment," has identified himself with Dist. Atty. Jim Phelan's investigation into the assassination of President Ken-and he had been shown century evidence" which had "completely convinced" him that Garrison holds the key to the assassination

He said he had been working with the New Orleans district attorney "for some weeks," and document he had been given did not rely on the testimony of any witness. He refused to go into further details.
He also declined to let newspapermen get a close look at two memoranda he presented as memories Perry Raymond Russo.

Lane said the two proved a Saturday Evening Post article by James Phelan did not hold up at all."

Phelan's article, "Rush to Judgment in New Orleans," questioned the Russo testimony and Sciambrano's methods of securing it. Russo was the main witness against defendant Clay L. Shaw during a preliminary hearing.
